

GRASSROOTS ARKANSAS

November 4, 2024

Teachers in our Little Rock public high schools are being rationed a box of copy paper/semester. We learned that teachers often have to come out of their own pockets to buy copy paper and black and color ink cartridges.

For many educators who have multiple classes and students, they often run out of paper and ink cartridges between six to eight (6-8) weeks, and four to six (4-6) weeks, respectively. The LRSD 2024-25 school year began August 5 for educators and August 12 for students. This is the 13th week of school!

We are asking you to consider joining us in matching and/or donating boxes of copy paper to our public high school educators to reduce their need to purchase paper to educate and support their students in learning.

Our goal is to secure 50 boxes of copy paper/school.
